

Taking Management to the next level

Management Matters

The Power to Shape People, Culture & Performance

The placement of Managers as transformational change leaders enables them the power to shape people, culture and performance. Power is not activated through the title of a role or level of authority, but through the foundation and substance that one stands on and moves from.

Establishing a level of fitness to embody this power and be the steady anchor point amongst increasing levels of change, complexity, ambiguity and deliverables is essential now more than ever before.

By balancing operational demands with deeper purpose, leaders become stewards of people, culture, and possibility, creating environments where both individuals and organisations can genuinely thrive.

Workshop Details

Take time to re-establish the value of your role and embody leadership as a movement beyond the title.

DATE 24 September 2026

TIME 9.00am - 4.00pm

COST $660.00 (all inclusive)

VENUE No1 Anzac Square
140 Creek St, Brisbane

BOOK NOW

Join us for a one day workshop that re-establishes the value and pivotal placement and responsibility of managers in their role as transformational leaders.

Reignite your Value

Rediscover purpose, power and potential in your role.

Strengthen the Foundation

Build inner stability, clarity and confidence.

Establish Relational Presence

Connect authentically, influence deeply and lead together.

Marcia Owen and Ulrike Paul bring a powerful combination of transformation expertise and real-world leadership experience to the Management Matters workshop. Marcia is a senior consultant with 20+ years leading people-centred change across diverse industries, specialising in leadership capability, cultural transformation and workforce wellbeing. Ulrike complements this with nearly 30 years of hands-on management experience, known for developing confident, capable leaders and high-performing teams. Together, they deliver a grounded, practical learning experience that equips managers to lead with clarity, confidence and impact.